

Bad math in Washington State

Washington has over 1,000,000 cows,
and only around 145 wolves.

+

Wolf families, left to their own devices,
live peacefully in remote areas.

+

Cows are grazing in prime wolf habitat and defiling our pristine public lands.

=

State agents/funds are killing our essential apex predators for private profit.

34 wolves killed to date "for cows"

All for ranchers who refuse to adequately protect their livestock or insist on grazing them in unsuitable, indefensible locations

Wolves cause less than 1% of livestock deaths, yet Washington plans to kill more soon, even though it won't stop attacks on cattle. Outrageously, 85% of killings have been for a single rancher, who openly expresses a desire to see wolves eliminated.

If enough of us speak out, putting pressure on Governor Jay Inslee and WDFW, we can stop this insane, wrongful and counter-productive war on wolves.

Let's do this in honor of all Washington wolves killed to date:

2012 – 7 Wedge Pack wolves

2014 – 1 Huckleberry Pack wolf

2016 – 7 Profanity Peak Pack wolves (end of pack)

2017 – 1 Sherman Pack wolf & 2 Smackout Pack wolves

2018 – 2 Old Profanity Territory Pack wolves, 1 Smackout Pack wolf & 1 Togo Pack wolf

2019 – 8 Old Profanity Territory Pack wolves (end of pack) & 1 Grouse Flat Pack wolf

2020 - 3 Wedge Pack wolves (end of pack)...& the hunt continues for members of two more packs

Learn more at predatordefense.org/wawolves

Don't wolves deserve places to live in peace?